

Across The Sky, Shooting Star

When I walk a thousand miles from home
And when I've lost all I used to know
It seems that I've got nothing left
I find that I'm undone
You are here to break me
And You've only just begun

CHORUS

With open arms You came running so far
To show who You are and who I am
Only You can change a heart
Like a shooting star You soar through the darkest of nights
To catch my eyes and guide me to the Father's arms

When I wonder where You're leading me
With no direction, walkin' aimlessly
Still You're ever faithful
Still You're ever strong
Now I can call You Father
You're calling me back home

Your arms, they're always wrapped around me
Your arms, they'll never cease to hold me
Hold me
