

Action Reaction, Sinner's Algebra

If you're breathing don't call you back no more
And your one good eye is stuck at your back door
It don't matter what you call it just kiss the iron sky
With your one good eye
If my head falls slowly down
And my heart spills on the ground
Then what is sinner's algebra
If my head falls slowly down
If you're cat and mouse in a tied up floor
And your one good eye is stuck at your back door
Like an open fire with an open wind
Like an open fire with an open wind
Like an open fire with an open wind
Love will pull you down

If my head falls slowly down
And my heart spills on the ground
Then what is sinner's algebra
If my head falls slowly down
And everybody wants someone
And everybody wants somewhere
And everybody wants
If my head falls slowly down
And my heart spills on the ground
Then what is sinner's algebra
If my head falls slowly down
