

Acumen Nation, Bleed For You (Radio Edit) staring out to space what i do best barely at the table as i chew, as i swallow, as i spit i forgot my english as the language that i always abuse yesterday a blackout swallowed up the afternoon yet i can't lay down still can't lay down because it's so, so loud in here i cannot breathe for you

but i crash and i burn
and i bleed for you
and i'll stay alive
just to have you
i'll stay alive
just to own you, but that's the only reason why picture your presence collecting your goal asphyxiating on love and other pastimes a piece of your traction i never get to taste these limbs won't lift me off of this floor it's times like this i like to forget who i am actually it's more like i have never had the choice

still can't lay down
still can't lay..

because it's so goddamn loud in here
i cannot breathe for you
but i crash and i burn
and i bleed for you
so i'll stay alive
just to have you
just to own you, but that's the only reason why