

Acumen Nation, Cancerine

yeah i think i'll kill myself again today and i'll probably do the same tomorrow because it really doesn't matter, i always wake up and everything is still heartbroken i'll never love anyone like you but i might find someone to love me more but in the end it won't be enough well i'm clutching tight to the memories of yesterday you you're running faster still from the memories of yesterday

i'll never love anyone like you

the stain, the song, the end is wrong love my cancer, love my cancer the pain, the lies, belief relies on
to laugh at will so these might kill

the stain, the song, the end is wrong
the pain, the lies, belief relies on
to laugh at will so these might kill
