

Acumen Nation, Remedial Math

If heightened eloquence is not your thing and if your only scholastic is the nursery
When something stupid and elementary as fixing flaws simple as ignorance is cursory
I stand to defy theocracy but that's my choice not my delusion of idolatry
If nothing can withstand the crashing of all this damn nonsense we are fed
We should be done

It's in your brain forever years and years of study will provide Nothing more than frustration stupid is as stupid is

If only there were tricks to fix your mind some of this shit
Would carry over least to past the time but it won't stick
Anything real see you laughing to yourself when the truth is that
Your brain doesn't get the joke and it never will...

If I was to engrave the answer key... deep inside you couldn't even fake
A passing grade if I was to copy the cursory... simple knowledge would shed only Shine the killing light i know it's a shame hypocrisy... rules over you and your Elitist hierarchy but what you don't know is that we will even this shit out later
When it really counts now that you're all grown up and you're my slave
Don't you look back on it all and really want to die?
