

Ad Infinitum, Marching on Versailles

This was your final chance
A chance you didn't take
Like the lightning, we will fall on your golden world
This was your final dance
Your final reverence
Now on the horizon you can see our torches burning
No turning back, our army will attack
Your dynasty ends tonight

We are the army of silent cries
Marching on your denial
We are the justice for those who died
For the glory of Versailles

March!
The day has come, the unwanted are rising
March!
The day has come, and now the fates are changing
March!
The day has come, a new horizon shining
March!
The day has come, from your head the crown's falling

Hear the symphony
Of our liberty
Hundreds of voices resounding through the night
Pushed in the shadows
Away from your halo
We've been kept outside of your perfect paradise
It's dancing through the light, of the moon tonight
History chose it's side

We are the army of silent cries
Marching on your denial
We are the justice for those who died
For the glory of Versailles

March!
Today is the day my friends
March!
We'll be free from our chains
March!
Have faith, justice we prevail
March!
Today, today we rewrite history

We are the army of silent cries
Marching on your denial
We are the justice for those who died
For the glory of Versailles
We are the army of silent cries
Marching on your denial
We are the justice for those who died
For the glory of Versailles

March!
The day has come, the unwanted are rising
March!
The day has come, and now the fates are changing
March!
The day has come, a new horizon shining
March!
The day has come, from your head the crown's falling
