Adagio, From My Sleep... To Someone Else

[Verse]
Sometimes Morpheus's waiting,
For my dreams to make me realize,
How alone I can feel, in my suffers,
How fragile I am.

Who's controlling myself, My tears are falling, I'll never be the same, Open my window to real world, And let me go...

[Chorus]
And by the dawn I'll know,
If I'll rest in my sorrow.
To breathe to kiss, I'll need
To live my life forever.
I am you are me,
I am my own enemy,
I'm frightened by my will,
Can't you hear my appeal?

[Verse II]
Today's a new season,
Do I have lost, all of my reason?
The blackened sky's awaits
The judgement of my lifeless fate.

My eyes slowly opening, And I just feel like nothing has changed, I 'll have to accept truth, I am condemned to cry

[Chorus]
And by the dawn I know, I will rest in my sorrow, To burn, to shout, I will Not live this life forever, I am you are me I am my own enemy, But for no long I'm sure, By myself I will cure.
