

Adagio, Underworld

Like the serpent crawling in filth
Murdering yourselves, feeded by spit
A darkened candle you have lit

Why all these sad smiles look so fake?
Preaching the evil, providing death
Oh my sons, are you awake

How come your world is ruled by hate
Unholy children in madness state
Chained to the suffering, guardians of Nihil
Blessed are the souls from Underworld

Facing the gates of my world
Only the pure, the stainless eye
May enter or may die
Paying the price for the blind

I feel like I've been abused
A fool god, treated by slavery
The creator, bewitched by his ones
The servant of his child

Show me how
You will find
The final peace for your mind
As I watched you from above
I'll let you rest in Underworld

Nature is dark, coldness is blowing
Shadows of ancient secrets surrounding
Tears of the fallen angels whispering
This minute is the last

And as I dive into dead water
I can hear the voice of a thousand sinners
Trying to reach the distant border
Finally leaving their faith far behind