

Adair, Alone In The City Of Robots

it's the best in midwestern technology.
this place, this town, is breaking me.
excuse me but you don't seem human.
eyes are vacant. could it be that I'm the only one?

and if home is where the heart is, then you're all homeless. my home is on my sleeve.
excuse me but you don't seem human.
eyes are vacant. could it be that I'm the only one?

can you still feel anything?
anything at all?

can you still feel?

turn away.
look inside
and you will find
there's nothing there.
this is a box
and it is empty.
where do you keep your heart?
could it be that I'm the only one?
