Adam Ant, Baby, Let Me Scream At You

Adam Ant/Marco Pirroni Say it girlfriend, say it Well this is this and that is that Though shrinks say they no better But people making love says more Than any word or letter He's not too good with books and such No not too good with that But he's got knowledge nice and raw And lots of nifty chat Baby let me scream at you You can decline of course I'm talking to you girlfriend Give me some chili sauce Well this is this and that is that Though shrinks say they no better But people making love says more Than any word or letter She's not the subtle kind at all Don't live her life from books But girls are girls are girls are girls And boy she's got the looks Get in get on get down get off Get up get dressed get out And if you find a better way Pick up the phone and shout Get in get on get down get off How fond of milk you are Don't be a Mrs. Hangup girl Beaucoup de chocolat It's that moment when you know it A first glance lets you show it That something good will happen here tonight And far across the room So deep inside her soon Your passion's like a spear of true delight
