

Adam Ant, Cajun Twisters

Adam Ant/Marco Pirroni

Get on your backstep where you belong

Leave your shirt and tie undone

Cajun twister all night long

You fight so hard to get your name

What big eyes you got grandma

On every tongue in every brain

What big eyes you got grandma

How in the hell can you complain

What big eyes you got grandma

Privacy's gone down the drain

Get on your backstep where you belong

Leave your shirt and tie undone

Cajun twister all night long

Pay attention

You fight so hard to get your name

What big ears you got grandma

On every tongue in every brain

What big ears you got grandma

How in the hell can you complain

What big ears you got grandma

Privacy's gone down the drain

You fight so hard to get your name

What a big mouth you got grandma

On every tongue in every brain

What a big mouth you got grandma

How in the hell can you complain

What a big mouth you got grandma

Privacy's gone down the drain

Get on your backstep....

You fight so hard to get your name

Please don't eat my leg grandma

On every tongue in every brain

Please don't eat my leg grandma

How in the hell can you complain

What a bore you popstars are

Privacy's gone down the drain
