

Adam Ant, Room At The Top

Adam Ant/Marco Pirroni/Andre Cymone

Once is never enough

Never is never was

Here and now is all that counts

Here and now in large amounts

Be beautiful but shut up

The going can be real tough

You can keep your fancy bars

Clubby friends and fast cars

And when the going gets hard

You can eat your credit cards

I really tried to fight it

But what the hell I like it

There is always room at the top

Don't let them tell you there is not

Made in England born and bred

An eighteenth century brain

In a twenty first century head

Room at the top -- so eighteenth century

Room at the top -- so eighteenth century

Room at the top

There's always room

If some of this fits some of you

Or like the things that you might do

It's the pleasure and the pain

That makes us do it all again

They say

Be beautiful and shut up

The going can be real tough
