

Adam Brand, Eighteen

Well all the boys in my hometown are celebrating coz she's turned 18
They all think she's just the cutest They've ever seen

Well now she's grown up And they've all shown up

At last she's turned eighteen
At last she's turned eighteen
At last the girl who lives across the street
has turned eighteen teen, teen
ooh ah ohh ah

Well Farmer Johnson really knows how to grow them
if you know what I mean He's been sitting on the porch with a shotgun
and he dont miss a thing
She's been locked up and they've all rocked up

At last she's turned eighteen
At last she's turned eighteen
At last the girl who lives across the street
has turned eighteen
teen, teen

wolf whiste x 2

Well Farmer Johnson really knows how to grow them
if you know what I mean
He's been sitting on the porch with a shotgun
and he dont miss a thing
up tight
tonight

At last she's turned eighteen
At last she's turned eighteen
At last the girl who lives across the street
teen, teen
ooh ah ohh ah
