

Adam Cohen, Beautiful as you

Some people fall in love
I've just been 'round the edges I'm still not really sure about what it is or how to get it Is love by chance or seduction all that I have are vague assumptions of what love must be like what love must feel like Tell me what does it look like is it as beautiful as you I've never been in love
Does that surprise you I find myself alone in the times where I don't want to be alone It's not that I'm scared of going to deep It's just I'm no good at pretending starting or ending caually I'm imagining what love must be like
Tell me what does it look like
Make it as beautiful as you
