Adam Green, Down On The Street

Down on the street there's a police attack And you've got to find out So you suck on a cranberry candy They look so sad when you call 911 But you've got to report them for Criminal classification

What can I do? White light turns into blue You know it's easy, so very easy I'm in trouble like a dirty stinking jew

Pepe Le Pew singing 'What can I do?' Still I go on vacations And act like the queen of injustice

And the girl on the subway who sleeps on her back And she's got to relax When I speak of the pleasures of silence

I want to play, who threw my toys away And gave me coffee, who wants some coffee? I'm in business on the wrong side of your bay

My heart be still, white light deploy at will My little brother, I want another Come together now for one enchanting thrill
