

Adam Gregory, Never Be Another

You're the light that lights my way, on the rainy nights
You're the road that's headed home, when it's bitter outside
You're the hand that I hold when I'm scared of the dark

Chorus

There'll never ever be another you
I could search my whole life through
It's no use, all roads lead me to you
There'll never be another...you

You're the first warm breath of spring, when the winter ends
You're my secret hiding place, when the world is closing in You're the rain pouring down, when the well runs dry

Chorus

Ohh no
Never be another

You're the rain falling down, when the well runs dry
Never be another, be another you
Never be another...ohh no

Chorus

Never be another you
Ohh no
Never be another