

Adam Watts, Forgiven Now

Every word's ringing now
Lovely in my head
Once so lost, now so found
Brought back from the dead

In the fallout of all the wrongs i've done
I can crawl out in the name of the son

I'll be forgiven now
For everything i've done
I'll be forgiven now
Forgiven now

The rising sun shows me how
To begin again
What weighed a ton and screamed so loud
Simply is forgotten

So i cry out with praises for the one
I am free now in the name of the son

Sad and lonely
Missing something
Looking everywhere
When there is one thing that can save me
And he's always there
Waiting to be called

Forgiven now
