The Darkside x5

Another cold and lonely rainy day comes to an end,
I have to clear my mind before I sleep what else I tend.
To close my eyes, and realize there nothing there but light.
I need shadow I need Darkness, to help me through the night.

The Darkside x5

Another cold and lonely sunday morning hurts my eyes, cold water hits my face I only get up to see the skies.
I raise my head, look up and I'm surprised the clouds have gone,
I'm still in search for darkness, so I got to wait 'till dawn.
