

Adie, Don't Wait

Lazy day

Just room enough for me to think and pray about each new day

Draw me from my drowning apathetic state

Stormy day

Just watch the rain melt all my doubt away

Fire away the heated arrows to my lukewarm state

Don't wait

Don't wish away

Today is going to be the day He made

Don't waste

One day is all that we've got to give and take

Bend and break my mind and heart to feel the urgent need

To take all I see and pour my life into eternity

And take it all today and give everything

And take it all today

Lazy day

You're in everything that comes my way
