

Adjusted, Letters To '99

I remember how it used to be
A different time, a different place, a different you and me
Every now and then I'm looking back
Cuz even though the year's gone by the memories still last
Back then we were inseparable, always side by side
We knew all there was about life. I never thought those times would end
But then suddenly we grew up and we grew apart
And nothing was the way it were. I hope you're happy where you are
I bet you are!
We had the whole world left to explore
I treated you like my brother and you treated me like yours
As I look back at those times today
I remember all we did like it was yesterday
I wish I still could call you friend...
Back then we were inseparable, always side by side
We knew all there was about life. I never thought those times would end
But then suddenly we grew up and we grew apart
And nothing was the way it were. I hope you're happy where you are
I bet you are!
