

Adjusted, Silent Screams

You take the best of me,
And give the worst of you,
Now you don't even hesitate.
Who the hell are you, to tell me what to do?
I don't see you progressing.
This anger's bursting out, deep down it comes alive,
And now I've had it up to here.
Back off and stop whining, I'm so sick of struggling,
To try to make you understand.
(You bring me down)- With all the things you say
(I wouldn't mind)- A little time all by myself.
(Leave me alone) - 'cuz I can deal with myself without you.
So come witness the fall,
Now once and for all,
I got to get this off my chest.
I can't hold the truth inside,
Because no one around,
Seems to know that dwells inside.
(You bring me down)- With all the things you say
(I wouldn't mind)- A little time all by myself.
(Leave me alone) - 'cuz I can deal with myself without you.
I scream out silent,
I'm almost down and done.
I've been held back for too long,
But now this war has just begun,
You'll get it all at once.
