

Admiral Freebee, Devil In The Details

Sitting like newborn baby's in the sun
And I can be you Steve McQueen
Or Neil Cassady, or something in between

And nobody knows where we are
And I can stay here for days
being alone with you in the back of my head
Just never fails
Never fails
To show me the Devil in the details
Shining through
I can see the Devil in the details shining through

And people like to talk about the big things they'll do
Yet just talking about it makes them (?)
But people don't do what they believe in
They end up doing what was most convenient

And nobody knows just where I am
And I can stay here for days
being alone with you in the back of my head
Just never fails
Never fails
To show me the Devil in the details
Shining through
I can still see the Devil in the details shining through

I miss you
