

Adolescents, Welcome To Reality

[Verse 1]

blood so deep the horse must hold his head up high in the valley of decision third of the world will die beat your hoes and plows into axes and spears as the armies meet in a battle they predict for years

[Chorus]

let the weak say im a warrior bring down the warrior let the faithless regain faith your faith is hopeless

[Verse 2]

the prophets and the psychics and the military agree continual world war crisis leads us straight to world war three roll the red carpet let the angel of death ride in to the valley of the valley of decision let the mayhem begin

[Chorus]

[Verse 3]

apocalyptic madness two thirds of the world in sadness the other third is gone but sadness lingers on troubled citys and an aftermath of hate no way to stop them cause now its too late the antichrists mission done the dead are the only lucky ones your decision make a decision the decision in the valley its too late welcome welcome to reality
make a decesion cause you've got no choice
