

Adolphson & Falk, Sheer Attraction

We're lying here just contemplating
While the heavenly bodies are rotating
Held in orbit by the powers of sheer attraction

And in this universal vastness
You and I still cling to this madness
Kept together by the forces of sheer attraction

Earth moves forever
On its eternal course
Your limbs entwined in mine
Caught up in gravitational force
Our beating hearts
Swell our heated veins
Unite two solar systems
On one relentless flame
You and I
In the force of sheer attraction
You and I
And the forces of sheer attraction

Your fingers - searching and drifting
Arouse me with their dancing and shifting
Awaken in me forces I cannot fathom

And far above this place where we're lying
Two great stars in space are colliding
Brought together by forces of sheer attraction

Earth moves forever
On its eternal course
Your limbs entwined in mine
Caught up in gravitational force
Our beating hearts
Swell our heated veins
Unite two solar systems
On one relentless flame
You and I
In the force of sheer attraction
You and I
And the forces of sheer attraction
