

Aendiaena, We Are Heading For Another Day

wake up
get up
it's time to see the sun enjoy a wonderful day hello diana, babe, how do u do? good evening andie, babe, i got the blue don't worry mama, my head-ache's not yet gone mmh, your eyes tell me u partied all night long i lost my raybans but what is wrong with u i'm overweight-is that enough for u sure excuse me, but i bet yesterday's dinner was fine

oh, how can u be so nasty at that time life could have more meaning would be more fun

when u open your eyes by the first ray of sun there should be no reason the brightness to shun we are heading for another day hello andie, babe, how do u do? thank u, really nice, and what about u? i lost 12 pounds weight in the last three weeks i did more sport and i climbed 7 peaks i see, your skin is fresh your eyes shine so bright your either darling, thought i saw cindy crawford at first sight how charming u can be at this morning time oh yeah, i've changed, stopped drinkin' whiskey and wine
