

Aendiaena, You Are My Man

I cry myself to sleep at night I toss and turn while I think of you I just wanna know once a flame burned oh-so bright but now I try to keep it high just wanna know, hm I wanna know givin' it up could be so easy livin' it up would be better to do go back to the start but I don't want to 'cause I am your woman and you are my man no pin-up girl whose body's tight can give you what you get from me I just wanna show so listen to what I say to you and keep your eyes hold open wide I won't let you go

I would never love anyone but you I hope you do remember that you love me too can't you see I'm your woman givin' it up... livin' it up...

I would never love...
