

Aeone, Come Away

One woman waits
One man, he calls
Stirring the sense around them...
One woman's arms
An opening door
Releases a presence to shroud them...
He feels the hunger of one woman's need
Awaken the longing of man and of seed... Come away, come away
Our bodies - they cried
And all the feelings we'd locked up
Rose into the night...
Come away, come away
Our bodies - they swayed and they sighed
Oh, you need
To love
To heal
To touch life...
One woman's heart
Guiding one man's love
Her essence, her light shining on him...
One woman's mouth
A murmuring song
That whispers the language of body and skin...
One comes with life and the other receives
The man is the woman and the woman is he...
Come away, come away
Our bodies - they cried
And all the feelings we'd locked up
Rose into the night...
Come away, come away
Our bodies - they swayed and they sighed
Oh, you need
To love
To heal
Come away, come away
Our bodies - they cried
And all the feelings we'd locked up
Rose into the night...
Come away, come away
Our bodies - they swayed and they sighed
Oh, you need
To love
To heal
To trust life...
