Aereogramme, Lightning Strikes The Postman

I got your letter
It turned to sand
Lightning strikes the postman
In his hand
I hope that you remember
The things you had to say
It's just a supernatural delay

I got your package It's all a mess Lightning strikes the postman In his chest I hope that your remember The things you had to say It's just a supernatural delay

Sent you a postcard Hope to find Lightning strikes the postman All the time I couldn't really think of Anything to say It's just a supernatural delay

It's hard to read the writing through the flame
