

Aeternus, Litany Of Ra

i am one of you
a vulture i have been the falcon is my face you'll see that i am more i am one of all
all that we see as sacred they are all in me all of mans divinties deceased i am from the mortal world yet i resurrect in the depths below i am many my limbs are gods

from horus of the neverworld to the weary of the heart the mistress of the western desert nurtures me with the strength i need the gods have themselves transformed into my body i am entireya god
no limb of mine is without god i enter as a god
i exit as a god
