

After Classes, Smellslifelife

Lovin' a girl again after I fell in love with her thinkin' that she's the one for me knowin' I've no chance whatever I knew I didn't succeed but I wanted to try it one last time at last I fell in love with an other girl before her eyes

New Year's Eve in a metal pub a girl is dying 'cause she'd get drunk Christmas is over I survived I have to go but don't know how

[Chorus:]

you should wait for someone you should wait for someone else you should wait for someone someone who never pretends you wake up in the morning the word is laughin' keep on lyin' but you are tryin' to tell the truth do something new it feels like nobody loves you every day is the same I don't know why I hate this place I don't know why this world is fucked up and Britney gets married a gay

[Chorus]

[Outro:]

I bet that I am just the one who's too young to understand but hope that not the only one who never wants to pretend I think you must change if you want you should go on your own way but I like you how you are like I want you to remain the same

[Throat:]

she says he's cool but all she says are lies and he's the sucker she knows you love her but she enjoys watchin' you to suffer

[Bridge:]

all she wants is you to want what she wants all you want is she to want what you want

[Chorus]
