After Forever, Intrinsic

At night, assimilate life In the infinite realm Of our intrinsic side

Find, the missing parts of the mind The hidden truth behind Our dungeon of thoughts, this labyrinth

Search, it has a reason and a meaning Remembered and repeated A guide, not to be ignored

Feel, there's so much to feel Amnesia must confiscate an elusive link to consciousness

It's there; cause there's so much we don't know Even our own true face It's there, facing what we can't have

Our ideals ain't true, naked and exposed To the bareness of what's real Boundless fantasy, becomes reality As we breathe water and run through the sand

Whispers and a scream, flying high, falling down And a face with no features or name Exposed to live, we can only divine Tell me, what's your reality?
