

After The Fall, Raise The Dust

looking back has a different feeling this time it's a lot more meaning i'll pick a photo in my head and disregard what you've said i'm not about to make a parting note im not asking for your vote all i ask is just a minute of your time to buy a ticket for a one way ride but all i can do is save myself from you but all i can say is take one step away dry eyes can't explain whats going on i've misguided all the memories holding on always feel this can't heal this break these restraints
