

After The Tragedy, Because I Could Not Stop De

Your words were salubrious
Your eyes were always warming
Your love was perennial
Your heart was always growing
The day the light escaped your eyes
I wish I'd been by your side
Because I could not stop death
I'll miss your love
My eyes will miss your face
Because I could not stop death
You will finally take your last deserved embrace
I'll write you from an open mind
The key is still in your hand
You showed me what life was like when love becomes abundant
I'll miss you
Your loving words
And I will not forget you
