Aga Zaryan, A Parable of the Poppy

On a poppy seed is a tiny house Dogs bark at the poppy-seed moon And never, never do those poppy-seed dogs Imagine that somewhere there is a world much larger The Earth is a seed - and really no more While other seeds are planets and star And even if there were a hundred thousand Each might have a house and a garden All in a poppy head, the poppy grows tall The children run by and the poppy sways And in the evening, under the rising moon Dogs bark somewhere, now loudly, now softly
