

Against All Authority, Another Fuck You Song

To them we're paper, numbers in a profit margin
We fill their pockets and keep their bank accounts enlargin'
No one controls them, they're on the inside
Of a structure built on bribes

Elitest inner-circle holding decisive power
Over a nation more corrupt by the hour
Money hungry business man, he's got a big plan
He's making party donations

Because one hand washes the other
And it's safer to be on the side of Big Brother
And we all know that it's wrong
So here's another fuck you song

Because one hand washes the other
And it's safer to be on the side of Big Brother
And we all know that it's wrong
So here's another fuck you song

The wealthy ruling class, they keep us occupied
They fill our heads with promises, but we know they're lies
And to them it's a game, and we will always lose
They keep changing the rules...

Because one hand washes the other
And it's safer to be on the side of Big Brother
And we all know that it's wrong
So here's another fuck you song
