

Against All Authority, Destroy What Destroys You

(Unintelligible)

Johnny's pissed off at the institute of social oppression
He's had enough and he can't take no more
Johnny's so tired of being held down by the system
The rich get rich and the poor stay poor
Johnny bought a cookbook
And he locked himself in his bedroom
Now he's got a back full of pipe bombs
Johnny took a gasp as he slipped on his ski mask
Now he's in the bank and he's singing this song

I won't be another content slave
That you oppress because I crave
For the annihilation of your existence
Feel my hate, feel my resistance
And the system was brought to its knees

I won't be another content slave
That you oppress because I crave
For the annihilation of your existence
Feel my hate, feel my resistance
And then I heard him scream...

Destroy what destroys you!
Destroy what destroys you!
Destroy what destroys you!
Destroy what destroys you!
