

Against All Authority, I Want To Stab You With So you're bigger and faster, better than het i had a dream last night that i stabbed you to death you're charming and you're bold, you make my blood run cold you're not who you say you are something surely worse by far i hope your score made par you set me at ease, i don't want to hear about your sex in my dreams you're stabbed in the neck. tetanus infection locking jaw you cannot conceive what i saw just so, just so lusty, i want to stab you with something rusty so let's not talk about last night you're an all-poison sight all i know is that it's not fair but you steal our precious air and besides cheap talk it hurts my ears i can feel you drawing near just so, just so lusty, i want to stab you with something rusty with just a wiggle of my nose giant robotic killer wasps descend upon your meaty frame they only know to kill and maim i want to stab you with something rusty i want to stab you with something rusty i want to stab you with something rusty i want to stab you dead
