

Agans Craig, She's Waiting

Well I first saw her by the door
lookin' better than ever before I hadn't known her more than a while but when I saw her, I threw my bags in a pile..
She's waiting, waiting, waiting, for her prince to come..
The empty season has come and gone and now I've got my true colors on Sometimes it ain't easy to tell someone when they aren't doin' so well..
She's waiting, waiting, waiting, for her prince to come..
Sit watchin' tv, and read the news
doin', you're thinkin' whatever you choose One step behind the line
still hangin' on, still doin' fine..
She's waiting, waiting, waiting, for her prince to come..
It's been a long day after all havin' a great time havin' a ball Come the night time, it's oh, so still the crescent moon is on the windowsill..
She's waiting, waiting, waiting, for her prince to come..
