

Agathocles, No One's Right

Ever got the feeling that you're being controlled not by the state but by friends you claim to know being controlled is a common thing but just act real and fking win I drink you don't, what a big deal we still get a long and our friendship is real
you're not right and the same goes for me we're just two friends with each our own ideas.
