

Agent 51, Been So Long

What do you get for your anger
And what do you get for your pain
Its how you live this life in danger
Your always on the go
Still only scars remain
Well its been so long since I have tried
Yea its been so long since I have cried
So life goes on
Yea its been so long
Yea its been so long sice I've felt the pain
Well I'm movin east bound on the west bound train
So life goes on
Its been so long
I try to do what is right now
I don't try to do what is wrong
The lies of guilt are comin out now
And I sit here alone
And sing another song
Just take a look in the mirror
And tell me what do you see
Down play the croud to the guilty
And make believe, and make believe you dont need me
