

Agnes Carlsson, Sometimes I Forget

I get so busy and I shut you out and you dont have no clue what thats about
You probably thinking that I m getting mad at you
I should take the time to just explain
That youre the only thing that keeps me sane
Cause there would really be the kindest thing to do
Even though theres no one who is closer to my heart
I can see that I have catch you in the dark
Sometimes I forget sometimes I dont think
To show the things I feel and to tell you what I mean
But there is not a day that ever passes by
That I dont think I that I got you in my life
If you have any doubts what my love is about
I just want it you to know
I wanna blame you give it turn away
But Ill be begging you to stop and say
Youre more important to one then I ever showed
So if youre thinking I dont care as much
That I dont appreciate your love
But Ill be devastated if you let me go
I hate to think I didnt give you
The attention you deserve so I m hoping now
That youll believe these words
Sometimes I forget sometimes I dont think
To show the things I feel and to tell you what I mean
But there is not a day that ever passes by
That I dont think I that I got you in my life
If you have any doubts what my love is about
I just want it you to know
I just wanted you to feel what I feel for you
I just wanted you to know
Sometimes I forget sometimes I dont think
To show the things I feel and to tell you what I mean
But there is not a day that ever passes by
That I dont think I that I got you in my life
If you have any doubts what my love is about
I just want it you to know
