

Agonoize, Running

running away... running away
running away... running away

you call this an existence... condemnation im here on my own... feed this evil illusion go on keep on running away wake up the evil within me the demon inside the innocence has died this life is nothing but a bad joke this life is killing me life is killing me

you call this an existence... condemnation
im here on my own... feed this evil illusion go on keep on running away... running away whatever you seek whatever you hide the truth is here you must decide where we live is fear with your dying grace life makes no sence now you have to face it you are trying to hide

down with life
no reason to life... no reason to survive down with life... down with life no reason to survive... no reason to survive
down with life
running away... running away

down with life
no reason to life... no reason to survive
down with life... down with life
no reason to survive... no reason to survive
down with life
running away... running away