

Agraceful, In Oceans

The water is rising above my neck
The tide it is pulling me farther away from everything
That I have grown to love
Away from everything that I know
Pull me back in
With all this I said I know that you're afraid
But I can't go on unless You're next to me
Take me now
Oh my God the water is getting higher
I need to breathe
Oh my God why is this happening to me?
If this is the end the worst is over
And all of this is keeping you calm
It's keeping you safe
It's keeping you quiet
And all of this is keeping you calm
It's keeping you quiet
It's keeping you safe inside again
It's keeping you
Pull me back in
I fear you are at the end
Pull me back in
I fear you have reached the end
It's keeping you safe inside again
It's keeping you
Awake again my God can we bury this?
The fear in their heart
