Agression, Don't Be Mistaken

Don't call on help from the other side Things might seem tough, but let it ride Even if the light seems to hurt your eyes Don't you call on the forces of the night Don't be mistaken, there are riches, powers, and pleasures there But don't be mistaken Don't you get got up in Don't you mess with the demons lair You think you know power Well you haven't seen shit Deal with the demons No telling what you'll get Better let it ride Don't run and hide Behind the pentical Black magic It'll be your death