

Aimee Mann, Today's The Day

Better pack your bags and run or stay until the job is done or maybe you can sit and hope that providence will fray the rope and sink like a stone or go it alone

And isn't it enough - for you?
isn't it enough?

So better pack your bags and run and send it to oblivion where you don't look like anyone that anyone would care about and do what you do
'til it buries you

and isn't it enough - for you?
isn't it enough?

And baby - isn't it enough? like major reno at the bluff wondering aloud if help is on the way and baby, isn't this your chance to make a break with circumstance isn't it enough to prove today's the day?
isn't it enough to prove today's the day?
