

Aion, Guilty

15. Guilty

I am guilty

I confess everything

I take the responsibility for all the bad

I don't ask for mercy

though there must be someone to be punished

I

sacrifice

myself

For wronged, ill-treated, murdered of the whole world

I have courage to confess

I've done to help 'em!

I hope the great ones of this world

Will dream nightmares of their unknown victims

Maybe one day they will wake

Scared

in the middle of the night

they shall cry

I know no one sympathizes me

Let it be

I will be stronger when the time comes to pay the price

I am guilty

I confess everything
