

Air Supply, Yours Truly

(Graham Russell)

Sometimes when I look at you,
I wonder why you're here with me I'm not the perfect lover and there 's other things I'd like to be

you never ask for my applause
I want you to know

I'm yours, truly yours
because, because, because
I'm yours, truly yours, truly yours

I'll never leave you all alone too far away to touc your skin I don't know where the story goes or even if it did begin

I go to the ball
You sweep the floors in every way

I'm yours, truly yours
because, because, because
I'm yours, truly yours
because, because, because
I'm yours, truly yours, truly yours

So sofyly you tell me in words that will haunt me as long as the light from the stars fills your eyes....oo..ooh....

You never ask for my applause
I want you to know

I'm yours, truly yours
because, because, because
I'm yours, truly yours
because, because, because
I'm yours, truly yours
because, because, because
I'm yours, truly yours, truly yours
