

Aislin, Creer: To Believe

And I believe in myself to be more than just a boy who lived life to die.
So please tell me that I'm going to be more because I have to be more.
And I feel like I'm running out of time. Is it too late?
Is it too late for me to live out my dreams? I have to live out my dreams,
I just have to live out my dreams. And I'm not here just to live life to die.
I have not to live life to die. I'm not here to die, I'm just not here to die.
Is it too late? Is it too late for me to accomplish my dreams?
I have to accomplish my dreams, I just have to accomplish my dreams.
And I know I'm not here to die. I'm not here to die. I know that there's more.
There has to be more, there just has to be more
