

Akins Rhett, No Match For That Old Flame

Akins Rhett
Somebody New
No Match For That Old Flame
Remember when you told me
You were over him
Well girl I know
You never mean to lie
But every time that we go out
And he walks in
You say hello like you never said goodbye
And that old spark gets in your eye

Guess I'm no match for that old flame
Lord he left a memory
That I can't love away
All fires don't burn the same
And I'm no match for that old flame

I know you say that this
Is all in my head
Well girl you know
I want that to be true
And though you say your love for him
Is long since dead
You come alive every time he looks at you
And I have to face the cold hard truth
