

Akira Yamaoka, Shot Down In Flames

Swear at the walls
They make fun of me
Day after day
Eyes that follow me
Is it you again?
It must be the end forever.
See for your eyes
Child's heart that cries
Raven flight, flight... and the meaning dies
As it was before, it will be no more
Time does that.
Say it again, like you said.
Doesn't sound like you
Where are you now?
Does the young one know you're here?
Breath on the glass once again
Feel them pull you in
Nobody leaves
You won't let you
You're affected
Can you hide who you are?
Take a look at yourself
Can you stop what will be?
You think running will help
Can't give up on the past
When the past never ends
Now the dead that you raised
Live in me
What have you done? You're insane!
Can you bring God down?
Plans that you made
Don't include me one more time
Fire will dance on the wind
Bringing in your heart
Your sacrifice wasn't wanted
Still you try
